Hey Tom why don't

Tom,
I have been a friend and admirer of yours a long time. I knew you would let me into home plate if ever I needed you. By the same token, if I can ever do you any service, please feel not to call on me. You know that I speak not empty words. That which I speak is in all sincerity. Bert

Let us guard our American heritage of public education with a vigilance even surpassing that of the Indian Scout.

Vicky,
it's been great having you in algebra. Give my regards to Bert
and tell him I'm sorry
I made him so mad. I had a lot of fun doing it though. We're

BEST

FACULTY

To Louis A. House

From the rich natures of both faculty and students, Southwest has been blessed by many bequests of the spirit. Now to them has been added the bequest of Louis A. House, beloved teacher and athletic coach for nearly thirty years. In the zeal of the young boy as he grasped the football, in the exhilaration of the runner as he broke the tape, in the glow of victory and the pride of clean defeat lay only part of the nature and purpose of Coach House. His larger qualities remain reflected in the enriched character and the uplifted aims, not only of the athlete, but of all his students. He was indeed a great teacher.

THAT BOTTOM PILE

To every Senior on his last class day
There comes the time to clean his locker out,
And throw that mess of five years far away.
But what forgotten treasures lie about!

On top we see a picture of a beau
From freshman days; and gum wrappers we find.
These thrown way, our next deep gaze does show
A pennant from a club we've left behind.

A coat we'd given up as lost appears,
A billfold holding fifty cents is next;
Then, hiding on the floor, a queer thing leers,
A pile of books—workbook, notebook, and text.

We look at our grade card, and then we stop:
What's on the floor we wish had been "on top."

JUNIOR BUSINESS COMMITTEE

Tom Van Dyke Chairman
Chuck Schmitz Secretary-Treasurer

AS THE YEAR 1955 opened, a new group, the Junior Business Committee, was instituted at Southwest. This committee is composed of twelve members, divided into sub-committees, and functions in coordination with the Senior Business Committee. Helping to organize and publicize the Junior-Senior Prom has been one of the most important of its jobs this year. The choice of the design for the class ring to be used for the next three years was also decided by the committee. By the formation of this group another link in the student government of Southwest is added, and more students are prepared for the responsibility of leadership.

HONOR STUDENT FROM FRANCE

Pierre Sisser, first foreign exchange student in a Kansas City public school, has become a familiar figure at Southwest. The Pep Club with the cooperation of the Student Council was responsible for having the American Field Service, from which he has a scholarship, select Southwest for his senior year. The relationship has been a happy one for Southwest. Pierre's high scholastic ability, enthusiasm, and friendliness have not only added much to Southwest, but have gone far in fostering good will toward his native country, France.

HOMECOMING QUEEN

ABOVE all other influences for the success of our school as an annual contender for Interscholastic League crowns has been the excellent leadership of Coach Louis A. House. Athletic coach at Southwest since the school's beginning in 1925, he attained national recognition as one of the finest and smartest men in athletics. This fact has been proved again and again as his teams have almost always placed high in the league.

Through his guidance many of his boys who have gone on to college have become outstanding athletes. Besides being coach of football, Coach House was also head track coach and for many years head basketball coach. His splendid record, given below, speaks for itself.

Football Championships: 1932-38-39-42-46-51.

Football Co-Championships: 1936-41-49-50.

Track Championships: 1939-40-44-45-46-47-48-51-52-53-54.

Basketball Championships: 1929-34-38-40.

Basketball Co-Championship: 1945.

AFTER losing 20-0 to their greatest rival, Shawnee-Mission, the Southwest eleven began an impressive league season by holding favored East to a scoreless tie. Then followed three straight wins, after which the Tribe received a blow to their championship hopes when fullback Al Parsons was sidelined by an injury for the remainder of the year.

The climax of the season was the Northeast game. Southwest twice fought from behind to lead 14-13 with just minutes to play. But the Vikings came back for one last touchdown to drop the Indians out of first place.

All in all, it was a fruitful season. Southwest had one of the strongest lines in the city, which fact was proved many times. In a non-league encounter the team offense was also put to work in a 52-0 romp over Lillis.

With plenty of good material returning next year, we can look forward to a possible league championship and a victory over our staunch foe, Shawnee-Mission.

Ken Yeo, Bob Perry, "Groceries" Ambruster

BASKETBALL

FIRST TEAM

ALTHOUGH this year's basketball team did not live up to its pre-season expectations, it was a team, however, which showed considerable determination and fight throughout the course of the season. After losing an overtime thriller to Shawnee-Mission to begin the season, the Tribe split even in their pre-season games. In their first league game, the varsity suffered another close loss at the hands of Manual, but bounced back the following week to defeat Westport 52-50 in a nip and tuck affair. Although Southwest could not seem to get rolling after that, they gained prestige in defeating highly-ranked Pem-Day 66-64. In the regionals Southwest avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of Central by whipping the Eagles 61-41, but lost in the semi-finals to Westport.

BEN GIERINGER Only a junior, Ben's steady play and hustling spirit will be a great help on next year's team.

PETE SIEFERT Pete's shiftiness and excellent eye more than made up for his small stature.

STEVE WOCHOS A junior and a returning letterman, Steve was the leading scorer in the Interscholastic League.

BURT JENSEN An accurate shot from anywhere on the court, this hustling sophomore was a great team asset.

JOE KUHHEL Joe's spirit, ball handling, and rebounding were a credit to this year's varsity.

BILL DOTY Bill's rebounding, hustle, and timely shooting were a great help to this year's varsity.

THIS YEAR'S Braves, once again under the able guidance of Coach George Ewing, enjoyed a successful season as they captured eleven games in sixteen outings. Highlighting the season were double wins over Shawnee-Mission and a better than average league record. Throughout the course of the year the boys showed their desire to win by their aggressiveness and alertness in game play.

Tennis

THIS YEAR'S tennis squad greatly upheld the Southwest standard of fielding good athletic teams. The season began with a warm-up meet with Rockhurst.

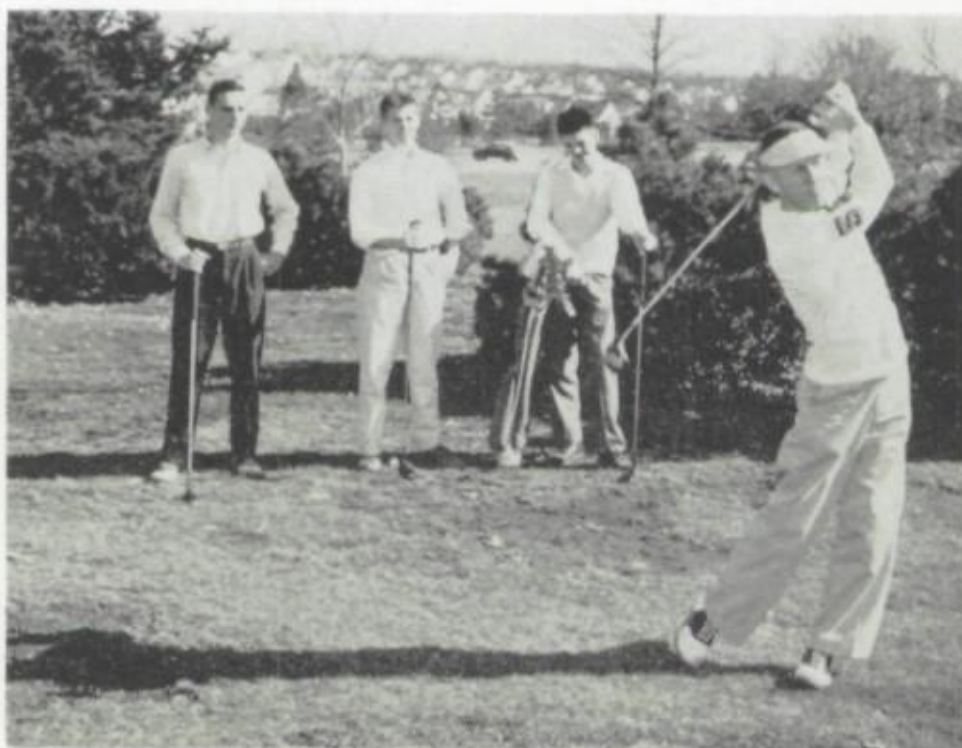

Southwest then proceeded to win the Interscholastic League tennis championship as Dunny Vanice captured the singles crown, and Phil Kirk and R. C. Johns were runners-up in the doubles event. Also performing well, but losing in close matches, were the doubles team of Stu Hutchison and Dave Vaughan, and Pete Siefert, singles.

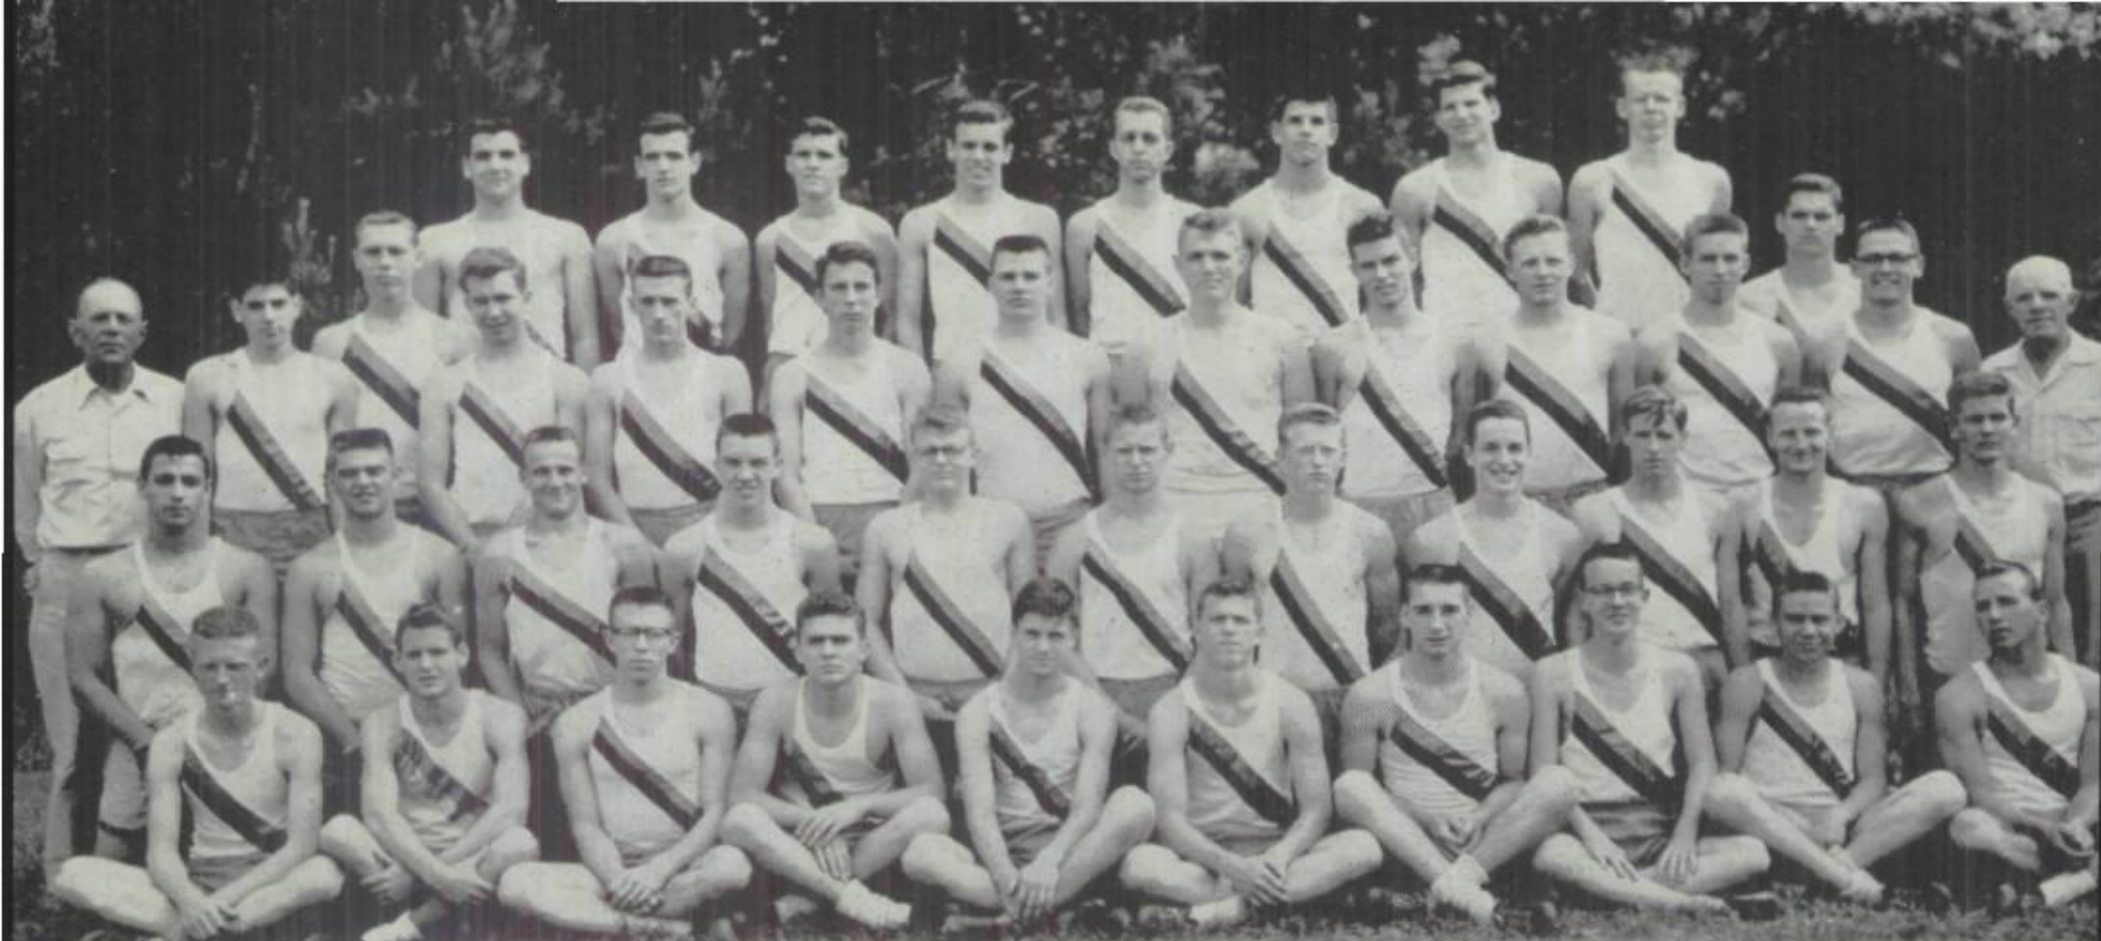

The team would have been further strengthened by the services of Bart Green, winner of many trophies in recent years; but, unfortunately, Bart was sidelined with an injury throughout the tennis season.

Golf

SOUTHWEST'S 1954 four-man golf team won the Interscholastic League golf title with a thirty-six hole total of 664. The low individual total in the tournament was registered by Jay Caldwell, who had rounds of 77-79. Completing the foursome were Sonny Olsen, 79-79; Bob Dibble, 90-82; and Neal Sawyer, 93-85. Here's hoping that this year's golf team can keep up the good work.

TRACK—1954

FOR THE fourth straight year, Southwest has produced a championship track team. Out of twelve meets, the Tribe captured nine firsts and three seconds. Highlighting the season were firsts in the State Indoor, the City Meet, and an impressive second in the State Outdoor. In addition to these triumphs, the Tribe bagged four relay crowns and won four out of five dual meets. The 1954 team was again a versatile squad showing strength in the dashes, relays, hurdles, and pole vault. Wherever our team went they showed brilliant athletic ability, true sportsmanship, and superb coaching. With the records that were broken and the performances that were given, we can certainly be proud of one of our best track teams in our school's history.

STAGE CREW

Co-Managers
Jon Marks, Jim Heyle

FULLY a book could be written in praise of the consistently outstanding work of the Southwest stage crew. Yet, this would be belated recognition, for when the crew is really working efficiently and effectively, they are taken for granted. These boys have spent many hours learning "the ropes" of the stage lights and equipment. Then they devoted many more hours to the productions themselves — Redskin Revels and the senior play, for example.

Although they are always behind the scene, their efforts are a vital part of every stage presentation. Swiftly and skillfully they maneuver the scenery, the backdrops, the "house" lights, the stage lights, the curtain, the spot—all the necessary equipment for a production. Previously unrecognized and unsung, we now bring them forward into the limelight for their proper recognition. Members of the stage crew, we salute you!

MANHATTAN MAGIC

Redskin Revels of 1954

SOUTHWEST students brought the magic from the fabulous city of New York and presented it to capacity crowds on November 18th and 19th. As the curtain opened on the 1954 Redskin Revels, the city was just waking up. Walking the streets bright and early were Norman Cannon and Jim Dwyer, reporters from the daily newspaper, who were assigned to find a story on the common man. That morning, in their search, they interviewed the people on the street—dancers, singers, and acrobats. The two reporters met an actress, a former acquaintance, who took them to see the rehearsal of a forthcoming Broadway show. After the rehearsal, the whole cast adjourned to Greenwich Village for more singing and dancing. When the curtain closed for the last time, the reporters had their story and Southwest audiences had a little of the magic of Manhattan.

DEBATE TEAM

"RESOLVED: The federal government should initiate a policy of free trade among nations friendly to the United States." This was the question that confronted the sixteen members of the 1955 Debate Team.

Speaking on the affirmative side were Dick Lowrance, John Eisberg, Jim Lacy, Jack McDonald, John Growdon, Bob Sofnas, Larry Tonkin, and Jim DeVine. Free trade, in their opinion, would stop the spread of Communism; conserve our natural resources; help the other countries to earn American dollars; and decrease the cost of many items to the American consumer.

Opposing them on the negative side were Carolyn Johnson, Saul Ellis, Fred

Bordman, Tom Van Dyke, Sandra Holtan, Bob Jackson, Pierre Sisser, and Mary Simmons. They argued that free trade would not benefit the United States but would cause widespread unemployment and drive many American companies into bankruptcy; that it would destroy industries essential to our defense; and, finally, that it would not improve upon existing reciprocal trade agreements.

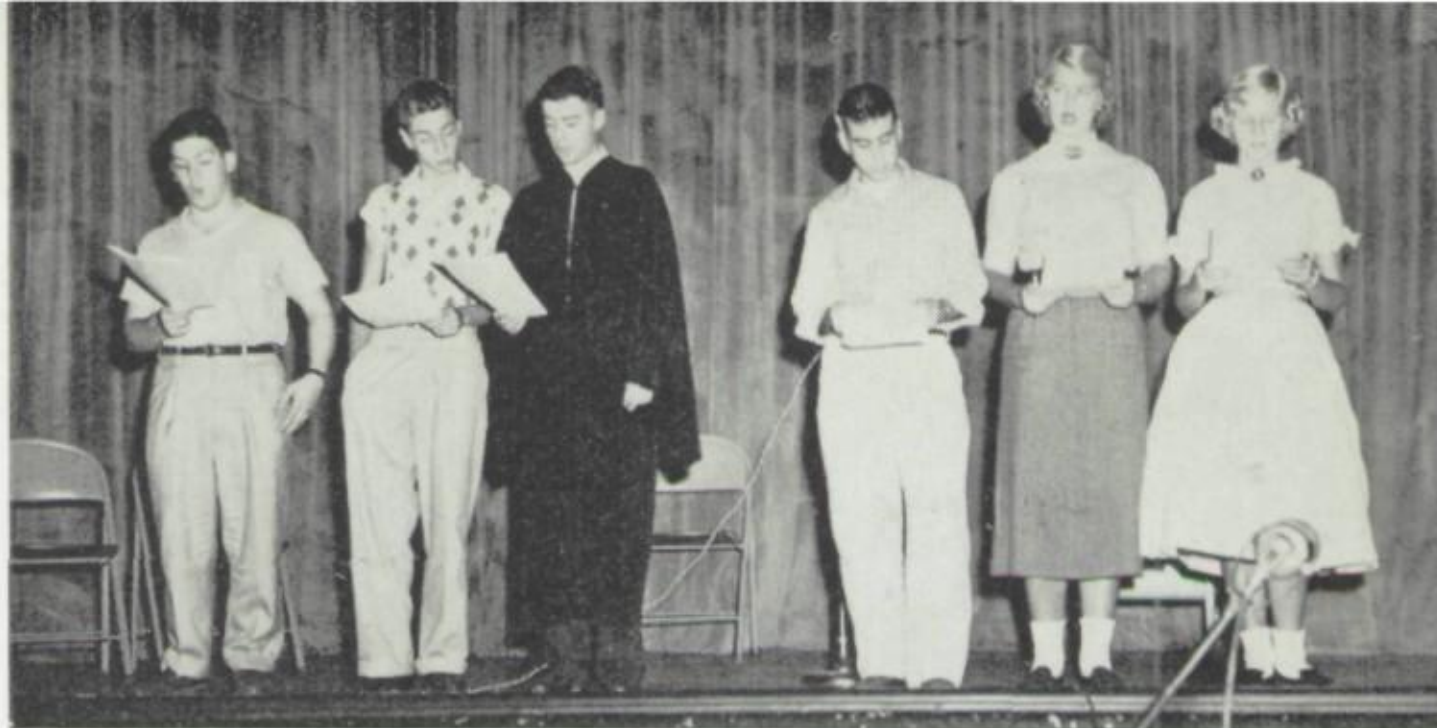

Using these arguments the Southwest team debated teams at Westport and Paseo high schools. Even though the debates at these schools were never judged, Southwest teams always received compliments from their opponents. We have reason to be proud of these students whose achievements have increased our standing among other schools.

320 COLLEGE AVENUE

Senior Play

A COSTUME party in a college sorority house—an innocent-enough setting. But suddenly while the lights are out and the boys are changing partners during a "cut-in" dance, Judy, the cleverest and most popular girl on campus, screams; and a moment later Lee, with whom she was dancing, is found lying on the floor dead, mysteriously murdered. The dancers are stunned, dazed. Who killed Lee? And why? When "Chief," the hard-boiled detective, fails to solve the mystery with his roughshod methods, third-degreeing everybody present from the dean of women to the aspiring young poetess, Judy persuades him to turn the case over to her.

Then, alone with the girls and boys and the two deans, Judy uses her own technique and has almost discovered who killed the boy when suddenly Val, the pianist, is mysteriously murdered. Everyone now has the jitters. Finally the clues all fit together and name Russ as the twice-successful murderer. Judy tearfully says, "You despicable cur! How could you! How could you!" At this, the most dramatic moment, Lee enters the room, congratulating the kids on their acting in his new play. The curtain falls, amid the groans and belated applause of the audience, who afterwards admit that "320 College Avenue" was the best play ever!

Dear Tom,

It's been so wonderful getting to know you. When I think back I had no idea what fun you could be. Just a few of the things we've done together like swinging, going for walks and fishing to name a few.

I have really enjoyed the passed month or so and I hope you have too. I hope our friendship will grow and grow as the days, weeks and months roll on.

I really want you to know that I think the world of you and probably always will.

Well as all things do I must bring this little note to an end. I mean everything very sincerely.

Hope to see a lot of you this summer.

Love always,

Loetta Beaman
